MR. CLEVELAND'S THREE MONTH

tions in Virginia, Ohio and New York-General Washington News.

ocratic party has held the reins of power for three months, and during that time it has demoralized the party organization in nearly every State of the Union. No one act of the President has had the effect to build up and strengthen the organization in any of the States. Where offices for merly held by Republicans have been given Democrats the number of persons displeased with the new appointees far exceeds those who are gratified by the change. Where changes have not been ma body in their many and the rank and file of Democratic workers are bitterly complaining of the President's mode State. It is bad policy to cry wolf Mr. Cleveland that he intends to take Mr. Cleveland that he intends to take time to find the best men for office, and his disregard of the recommendations of party leaders in filling the places, gives the Democratic managers great annoyance. Three important State elections will be held this fall—in Ohio, New York and Virginia. The State and national elections in Ohio last year, when the full strength of both parties was developed at the polis, showed the Republicans to have a decided majority. To overcome that majority is the object of the Buckeye leaders, and to do it they must not only present a united front, but have all the substantial aid the Federal Government can give.

Judge Foraker, the Rapublican candidate for Governor, was nominated on the first is allot, with general unanimity. The Republican party is thoroughly wedded together. John Sherman is the accepted candidate for re-election as United States Senator, and if the vote can be brought out election day, there is hardly a doubt of Republican success.

In New York the delay of the President in filling the Customs offices is giving the Democratic directors much uneasiness, Possibly, however, in this case Mr. Cleveland is a second Solomon. The warfare between Tammany and the County Democracy did not end with the triumph of the latter in the nomination of Cleveland mocracy did not end with the triumph of the later in the nomination of Cleveland at the Chicago Convention. The President may be able to bring about something like peace by choosing as Collector of the Port a Democrat not conspicuously identified with either organization, but it is difficult to understand how he can do anything that will harmonize the factions or reconcile party differences.

In Virginia the President's failure to make prompt removals of Federal office-holders has caused much dissatisfaction, and the result of municipal elections recently held in the State shows that the Republicans have not become disheartened by their failure to elect Mr. Blaine last November.

ast November.

The patronage of the Government which the Democrats last Fall expected would work them such political good, turns out to be a curse rather than a blessing. Perhaps, in the hands of Mr. Hendricks it might have been a help. At the disposal of Mr. Cleveland it is a fruitful disposal of Mr. Cleveland it is a fruitful source of disturbance and weakness. The Administration is thoroughly Democratic, the offices, save only those protected by law, are being taken from Republican hands, but in filling the places Mr. Cleveland disregards personal party service and the welfare of active Democratic organization in a way that shocks alike the Bourbon buildozer and the Northera copperhead.

The suggestion came from Mr. Jordan, the Treasurer of the United States, and he backed up his suggestion with a strong argument as to the feasibility of the plan, and with the opinion of the Solicitor that it could be lawfully done. Mr. Jordan was much surprised to see how quickly the newspapers got hold of it, and said yesterday that he was afraid to open his mouth anywhere on a subto place the money in the banks instead it, and said yesterday that he was afraid to open his mouth anywhere on a subject that it was best to keep closed, for fear the press would get it. COLUMBUS, O., June 15 .- A News' re the revenue than has been claimed.

The abuses in the matter of the wool tariff are charged not to customs officials or to importers, but to the vacillating course and conflicting decisions of the Treasury Department itself. It is claimed by those who have given the subject much attention that the law defining the classes of wool which are to be admitted. porter has had an interview with John G. Doren, editor of the Dayton Democrat. Mr. Doren is a man of unswerving political integrity, and is most emphatically opposed to the Kid or boodle element of the Democratic party. He, together, with other eminent Mossbacks, believes that Allen classes of wool which are to be admitted for use in making carpets at a low rate of duty, and those classes adapted to other uses which are subject to higher rates of duty, is sufficiently clear; yet that the rulings of the customs division of the Treasury, approved as they have been by the Secretary hitherto, have been such as to make extensive frauds possible.

Among other things, it is said that alpaca, mohair and other wools of the finer grades, are admitted in large quantities at the lower rates prescribed for the inferior grades of wool. The provision of the law, also, which permits the importation of 'waste' at a merely nominal duty. G. Thurman is the greatest man in the Democratic party to-day, and it is not surprising that he should express himself as reely as he did at the treatment he had received at the hands of his party, or ather, of an element which has gained on of the party machine. When asked what he thought of the Republican

"It is a remarkably strong one, and but little can be said against it."

"Whom do you favor as the Democratic candidate for Governor?"

"Well, that is hard to tell, but I think that Hoadly should make the race. He took his chances two years ago, and was elected. Now he should take his chances a second time and be defeated. He foisted himself upon the party then, and now the party should make him run. The Republicans have thrown down the challenge, and he is a coward if he does not take it up." tion of 'waste' at a merely nominal duty, has been so construed that large consignments of fine wool have been imported at a small percentage of the duty which the law properly interpreted imposes. The Secretary of the Treasury has had these allegations under consideration, and if they are austained, the decisions of the department will be revised. The change of practice which has been suggested is that in assessing the duties upon wool hereafter, the appraising officers shall be directed to accertain the quality, class and value of the wool, irrespective of the statements of importers as to the objects for which the wool is designed. In other words, an appraiser who is passing upon the finest quality of wool is not to accept as an undisputed fact the statement of an importer, or of a custom-bouse broker

THE IRON STRIKE.

THE OLD RAIL DIFFICULTY

Phillips' Break-Some Secrets of Satur-day's Session Let Out-Difference of Views-The Conference of To-day.

PITTSBURGH, PA., June 15 .- The mor interesting topic of conversation this morning in reference to the iron strike was the compromise made by Oliver Brother

& Phillips with their men. The general opinion expressed is that this offers a way to learn what had caused such a terrific report. It appears that for some time past workmen have been making an excavation on the property owned by John G. Storm, where it is the intention to erect a new building. The property fronts on Butler street, directly opposite Deputy Mayor Porter's office, and near Thirty-fifth street. A few feet below the surface a rock almost as hard as lint was encountered. This morning the contractor, Patrick Shields, decided to blast it out. He had a hole dug three feet deep. out of the old rail difficulty and will finally be the basis upon which the strike will be settled. In connection with the move made by the Olivers, numerous additional facts have come to light. It seems tha ever since the beginning of the contest Harry Oliver has been urging peace measures. The trustees of the firm made every effort to hold them in line, but proposition that they should stand between him and his creditors, as he would inform the latter of his and readiness to resume operations. He then demanded a representative some time in February or March, W. C. Ridgway commenced suit in the Circuit and the conference committee, but the dother manufacturers well know against E. O. Prince and M. A. Riffe, asking damages in the sum of $15,000 for the alleged seduction and debauchery of his wife. The petition relates many wrongs and gives dates and circumstances of the occurrences, and on the face of the affair makes quite a gloomy story of the wronged husband. Messrs. Prince and Riffe are two prominent men of Hinton, W. Va., and are quite wealthy, and subsequent developments indicate that there has been a double effort to hold them up for all the money which they could produce in a given time, that they might save their names from being brought before public in an unenviable light.

OTHER OPINIONS.

"The strike will continue," said Secretary Weeks, "as the manufacturers will not accept the compromise." Various rumors were aftoat this morning in regard to the intentions of numerous firms. It was said that Wilson & Walker, and Painter & Sons, would soon sign the scale. From a reliable source comes the report that Jones & Laughlin will start the American Iron Works on Thursday, when necessary repairs shall have been completed. Mr. Labouchere (Radical) asked Mr. Gladstone if there was any truth in the published report that the Marquis of Salisbury had only consented to form a Conservative Ministry when assured of the assistance of the present Liberal Government.

Mr. Gladstone, in reply, assured Mr. Labouchere that he [Mr. Gladstone] was ignorant of any a rangement whereby the present government was bound by any promise to assist the Conservative government. The House then completed the remaining stages of the bill granting an aunuity to the Princess Beatrice on the accession of her marriege, and accepted the amendments made by the Lords to the Seats bill. Death was caused by prostration, brought on by overwork and mental anxiety. Immediately after the announcement of the death of Admiral Courbet the Chamber of Deputies was adjusted.

Courbet the Chamber of Deputies was adjourned as a mark of respect.

Admiral Courbet had been in command of the French fleet in Chinese waters since the troubles with the Black Flags in Tonquin begun. He conducted the bombardment of Too Chow, the capture of Kee Lung and the blockading of Formosa. His admirable conduct of the naval warfare against the Chinese had considerable to do with brigging about the final treaty of peace which to-day's dispatches state the Emperor of China has jart approved.
